Forecast For East Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Thursday 07 Oct 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mostly fine with some warm sunshine. Locally breezy.

Today:
Rather cloudy to start, especially across the Derbyshire Hills with some light rain and drizzle at times. Largely dry elsewhere, with increasingly bright and warm spells of sunshine developing. Occasionally breezy over higher ground. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:
A mostly cloudy and mild night to come with winds becoming light. Many places remaining dry, though some light rain or drizzle likely, mainly over western hills. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Friday:
Some areas of low cloud or fog initially, but brightening up through the day leading to warm spells of sunshine for many by the afternoon. Dry with light winds throughout. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Overnight low cloud, patchy fog clearing Saturday to a dry day with bright spells. Fresher Sunday with a little rain. Brighter later. Breezier Monday with rain arriving from the northwest.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.